2017 ISEST

2017 International Symposium on Environmental Science and Technology (2017 ISEST) is to be held in Beijing, China, Sept. 19–22, 2017. It is a continuation of the previous five international symposia held in Beijing (2007), Shanghai (2009), Dongguan (2011), Dalian (2013) and Chongqing (2015) respectively. The purpose of this symposium is to provide an up-to-date discussion in the field of environmental science and technology in general. During the symposium, there will be two special sessions honoring Academician Jiang Guibin and Prof. Ma Jun respectively.

Theme

Science and Technology in Sustainability of the Environment

Subjects and topics

Papers will cover fundamental aspects, technical approaches and/or the related areas as follows:

- Water Pollution and Water Quality Control
- Air Pollution and Air Quality Control
- Land (Soil, Waste Solid) Pollution and Remediation
- Waste Recycling
- Environmental Monitoring and Assessment
- Environmental Toxicology
- Environmental Chemistry
- Ecosystem Restoration
- Technology of Environmental Sustainability
- Biomass and Renewable Energy
